Yanks Closing Trap On 75,000 Nazis

By GLADWIN HILL

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, July 28 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Bradley's forces advanced to within two miles of Coutances in Normandy, and field dispatches predicted the fall soon of that city, a choke point for Germans attempting to escape from the Lessay and Periers areas. The American tank breakthrough had plunged spearheads more than 11 miles deep into the heart of enemy defenses and mushroomed into a front 17 miles broad behind the enemy flanks, threatening entrapment of most of the German forces—possibly 75,000 men—in the western half of the Normandy front.

American fliers supporting the break-through sail the Germans falling back through the Coutances bottleneck were in greater disorder than during Rommel's debacle in North Africa.

HINT PATTON LEADS
(The London public speculated that Lt. Gen. George E. Patton, Jr., of Sicily fame was leading this huge stream of men and armor pouring through the gap.)

While the Americans expanded the 100-mile Normandy line, Gen. Montgomery's British and Canadian forces broke up one small German counterattack after another south of Caen.

One American spearhead stabbed to Notre Dame de Cenilly on its left, taking that town 11 miles south of St. Lo.

Here the Americans were nine miles southeast of Coutances, while other columns of the same movement spread along an eight-mile front were pointed at the city itself. The nearest was within the gunfire of the only bridge affording escape at Coutances for the Germans.

Others pushed to Ledeshayes, six miles south of Marigny and to the Souilles woods, 3½ miles south of Canisy.

Two other spearheads closed in from the north from captured Lessay and Periers.

3 OTHER SPEARHEADS
The Germans possibly were planning to make a stand behind the steep-bluffed Soule and Sienné rivers, which run inland through Coutances, but already such a line was threatened by three other spearheads shoving deep into German territory from the west and east of St. Lo.

Twin spearheads southwest of St. Lo were aimed at Avranches, at the base of the Normandy peninsula and behind Coutances. Avranches is 30 miles below St. Lo.

Coming through Le Mesnil Herman, they are in position to swing west to join the forces driving on Coutances, or to veer east and join the Sixth spearhead which cleared a 13-mile stretch of road east from St. Lo to Caumont.

Bradley thus had put the Germans in the position every commander dreams of—stabbed on a wide front by numerous forces which had a bewildering profusion of opportunities to converge, fan out, encircle and cut off opposing troops.

A spokesman at supreme headquarters said the Americans were so extensively on the move on the 40-mile stretch from Caumont to the sea that there "no longer was a question of a line on the American front." He described the situation as fluid.

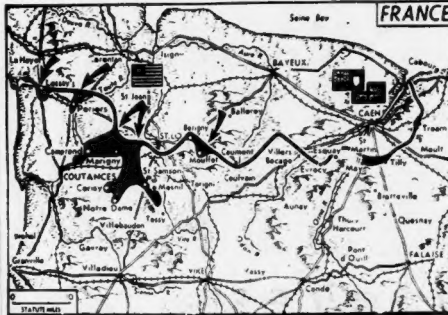

Despite bad weather, Allied fighter-bombers continued close support of ground troops, striking at the battered enemy and providing cover for Allied armor and infantry.

Pour in Troops

LONDON, July 28 (INS)—Continuous landing of large contingents of fresh troops in Normandy foreshadows "a large-scale operation," the Nazi news agency DNB said today.

Gen. Montgomery, the agency continued, has more than 50 divisions and "the Second Army alone has between 1500 and 2000 armored units in the field."

TANK CHIEF?—Lt. Gen. George S. Patton today was reported leading the drive-through of the Yank tank forces in the Cherbourg peninsula. This has not been affirmed officially.

Air Fights Rage Over Germany

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

LONDON, July 28 (AP)—American Flying Fortresses, 1000 strong, smashed at targets in central Germany today under escort of an equal number of fighters, and the Berlin radio reported that great aerial battles raged across the skies as Nazi planes tangled with the raiding armada.

The assaults were launched despite continuation of cloudy weather.

The daylight raids followed a night of activity by Italy-based bombers, which hammered the Romanian oil center of Ploesti while home-based RAF Mosquitos pestered Stuttgart for the third time in four nights.

The German radio said Bucharest was bombed also last night.

N. Y. U. Professor Dies

CANAAN, Ct., July 28 (AP)—Prof. Roy Mitchell, 60, of the College of Fine Arts of New York University, died suddenly yesterday at his home.

San river, they penetrated to a point 128 miles from German Silesia.

Brest Litovsk and Kaunas gave the Russians 10 major triumphs in 24 hours as they whipped through the Baltic states, Poland and the Carpathian foothills toward East Prussia, German Silesia and Czechoslovakia.

Nearest Russian troops were within 340 miles of Berlin itself with the capture of Garwolin, 30 miles southeast of Warsaw.

Other Russian triumphs were announced in a record spurge of orders of the day by Marshal Stalin coloring Moscow's skies with many-colored flags for five hours until midnight.

RED VICTORY LIST

1—Brest Litovsk, historic city of 50,000 on the western Bug river, 112 miles east of Warsaw. Moscow has not yet confirmed its capture but it virtually was surrounded last night. Railroads radiate from there to Warsaw, all sections of East Prussia, Moscow, Minsk and Wilno.

2—Kaunas, former capital of Lithuania and second largest city. Kaunas had been invested for a fortnight. The loss last night of Siaulai made its position untenable. It lies 55 rail miles from the East Prussia frontier.

3—Lwow, third city of old Poland and one of Europe's greatest rail centers, toppled last night after days of street fighting. The city is on the Bucharest-Warsaw-Berlin railroad and was a barrier to Czechoslovakia and Hungary. Moscow's Izvestia said Lwow still was burning from German demolitions and that "dozens of thousands of innocent people" had been slain in a Nazi reign of terror.

LAST RAILWAY CUT

4—Siaulai, third city of Lithuania, fell last night. Thus the last major railway was cut by which the estimated 300,000 troops of the 30 divisions of the German 16th and 18th armies could escape or be supplied.

5—Daugavpils, third city of Latvia.

6—Bailestok, 110 miles north east of Warsaw, which long has been surrounded and bypassed.

7—Stanislawow, guardian city to Czechoslovakia and Hungary, its fall and other near-by gains in the Carpathian foothills placed the Russians within 13 miles of

Five New Allied Blows at Japan

By Associated Press

The shrinking Jap empire bled today from five new Allied thrusts, one a U. S. stab into the Carolines which wiped out 10 ships and 26 planes and reduced Palau as a stumbling block on the road to the Philippines.

On eight sea and land battlefields the best Japan could manage was a stand-off against the underdog Chinese at Hengyang. Allied victories were scored at Palau, Truk, Sabang and on China's two battle fronts.

Carrier planes of a fast American task force raided Palau and other western Caroline bases for two days (July 24-25), sinking a destroyer, an oiler, a destroyer escort or mine layer, seven cargo vessels and many smaller craft.

On the first day 26 planes were destroyed. On the second, no enemy interceptors were seen. Five U. S. Planes were lost but four pilots were saved. Adm. Chester Nimitz told of the raid last night.

(A Domei dispatch said that "some 50 enemy planes" raided Rota island in the Marianas. Another blow, inflicted by bombers of Gen. MacArthur's command, sank one ship and fired three others of a five-ship convoy 160 miles south of Truk.

A British-directed fleet hit Sabang at the northwest tip of Sumatra and wrecked its harbor, vital to control of the Japanese supply line to Burma via Singapore.

British submarines destroyed 21 Japanese supply and other ships in far eastern waters recently, and damaged several by torpedo and gunfire.

On Guam and Tinian in the Marianas U. S. troops pressed the isolated enemy garrisons closer to annihilation. The Tinian invaders, killing 19 Japs to every marine slain, held a third of the island and were putting Ushi airfield in shape for American use. On Guam a war correspondent said Apra harbor, a 4700-foot airfield and the old Navy and Marine base at Sumay seemed about to fall.

On New Guinea, the trapped enemy still probed, in vain, for a weak spot in the Allied encirclement.

The Chinese recaptured Leliang, thus jerking from under the Japanese a springboard for extension of its drive to seize all the Canton-Hankow railway.

Inside and outside the walls of beleaguered Hengyang the Chinese defenders and the Japanese were locked in confused fighting.

Allies 7 Miles From Florence

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN

ROME, July 28 (INS)—Allied forces, driving toward Florence, occupied San Casciano, seven miles south of the city today without meeting any opposition.

Armored elements entered the town but were unable to make further progress because of enemy demolitions.

(The German high command said Allied armies in Italy had launched a major attack on a broad front south of Florence.)

(The British radio reported that New Zealand troops are only six miles from Florence.)

Polish troops advanced on the Adriatic sector. The situation at Pisa remained unchanged, with American troops reported in possession of part of that city.

24 Die on U. S. Hospital Plane

LONDON, July 28 (INS)—Twenty-four persons, including 17 wounded American fighting men, a nursing sister and the plane crew of six men, were killed last night when the aircraft in which they were flying crashed into steep cliffs on the Scottish coast.

Oh, Fudge!

SEATTLE, July 28 (AP)—There isn't much prospect of relief for the nation's sweet tooth. Philip Gott of Chicago, president of the national confectioners' Ass'n, reported to a candy dealers' meeting that chocolate allotments for civilians were cut another 10 per cent this month. The chocolate supply for civilians was now 50 per cent of the pre-war level, he said.

Reuters' news agency reported today. The plane was transporting the wounded men from the south of England to a Scottish hospital when it apparently struck the cliffs and fell among the sharp rocks at the base of the hills.

Fire broke out immediately, Reuter's said, and many of the bodies were burned beyond recognition.

All on board lost their lives in the crash, which occurred near the mull of Gallaway on the western shore of Luce bay. Two other planes which were accompanying the stricken craft returned to England with first word of the disaster.

According to these airmen, if the plane had flown a few feet higher it would have cleared the cliffs, which are only feet high.

The plane was attached to the United States Transport Command.

Toddler Takes Early A.M. Hike

Like most youngsters his age, Michael Newport, 2½, of Falmouth st., Back Bay, wakes early and after several unsuccessful tries at rousing his parents, lays back in his little bed resigned to waiting until the rest of the world decides to wake up.

Today, the wait became boring for Michael. He "hiked" himself noiselessly out of bed, clad only in his pajamas, and went for a barefooted stroll along Huntington ave., Back Bay, in the misty morning air.

There weren't many people around at 7 a. m. as the blue-eyed blond lad toddled along Huntington ave., but that didn't bother Michael.

The spirit of adventure was with the little wanderer and he walked to West Newton st. before John Randall, a Back Bay postal employee, interrupted Michael's stroll to ask some pertinent questions concerning why a child should be parading around barefooted and clad only in pajamas. Michael went along readily enough to police headquarters, glad of the opportunity to see new places and people. He enjoyed himself immensely at the station where policemen and reporters outdid themselves in their efforts to entertain their tiny visitor.

While Michael's fun was going on, his mother, Mrs. Helen Newport, awoke to find him missing. She notified police at Station 16.

Synthetic Gasoline Called Postwar Must

WASHINGTON, July 28 (INS)—Rep. Randolph (D.) of West Virginia, labeling synthetic gasoline as a "must" after the war, warned today this nation's fuel supply must be bolstered to meet demands of greatly expanded private aircraft operations.

At the same time, he disclosed that location of a site for synthetic fuel experimentation would be announced shortly. Several states are being considered.

One Nazi, 2 British Boats Sunk in Battle

LONDON, July 28 (AP)—Two British motor torpedo boats and a German E-boat were sunk in a close-range battle between British units and a strong force of small Nazi warcraft Thursday off a Normandy cape, the Admiralty announced today.

The E-boat blew up, the Admiralty said, and several others German vessels were damaged, one seriously.

Tough Marine Goodwill Envoy

By ALICE BISSELL

This story of a typical American fighting man will show you just why America is loved by the saddened, hungry people of war-torn places.

At the age of 17 Sgt. William Ronayne, 24, of Galena st., Roxbury, joined the Marines. Last November he was assigned to overseas duty.

He had to say goodbye to his two-weeks-old son, William, on the baby's first day home from the hospital, and he waited for this parting until after his goodbyes to his wife, Eleanor, 23, were over.

"I stayed in another room," his wife revealed today. "William stood over the baby's crib for an hour, saying little things to him. He wanted a child more than anything in the world."

"I heard him say to the baby, 'Why, you don't even realize what this war is all about, little fellow.'"

"While he's been overseas, he has sent him little jackets and shoes from foreign islands."

Today, from Saipan in the Marianas Islands, Sgt. Vic Kalman, 1st Marine Corps correspondent, sent a story back to the States in which he disclosed the qualities in the tough Marine that made him loved overseas as he is in Roxbury.

"The pitiful condition in which Ronayne finds the prisoners has so moved him that he spends hour after hour comforting them. He picked up a 4-year-old boy and his parents. He gave the men cigarettes and the children candy," wrote Kalman.

"He saves his rations for babies. At one time he walked several hundred yards through sniper-infested woods, carrying a native boy with a broken leg to safety," the report continued.

Asked by Kalman how he had time for all the little kindnesses along with the terrible fighting, Ronayne gave the answer in these simple words: "I treat them the way I'd like my wife and baby treated."

Cites Gambling in Custody Suit

His wife thought it all right for their 10-year-old daughter to watch a card game, with money strewn on the table, Percy N. Freeman, Springfield attorney, testified in Dedham Probate Court today.

Freeman and his estranged wife, Johanna, of Brookline, are fighting for custody of their only child, Ruth. The girl is Freeman's daughter by a previous marriage, but her stepmother claims her by legal adoption.

The Springfield man testified he and Mrs. Freeman increased their income by selling advertising after their marriage. He said they would leave the little girl with Mrs. Freeman's parents during the day and call for her at night.

TELLS OF CARD GAMES—On occasion, he related, they would find a card game going on, with money changing hands, and the little girl watching the game.

"I told my wife I didn't think it was a good thing for Ruth to see," he testified, "but she scoffed at me. She said: 'It never hurt me. I've been subjected to gambling all my life and it had no effect on me.'"

Freeman declared his wife told him he was an "unfit parent" and instructed his daughter never to take orders from him. She told the little girl to take orders only from her, he said.

Earlier, he testified that in January, 1940, at a birthday party in his home, his wife flew into a rage and cursed him so vigorously that their guests departed in embarrassment.

A previous witness, Anne Hoffman, a SPAR, told Judge James F. Reynolds she and Mrs. Freeman once stayed in a cocktail lounge nearly two hours, at night, while Ruth, then 6, waited in a locked automobile outside.

REFUSED DRINK

Miss Hoffman recalled that on a visit to Boston she was met at the train by Mrs. Freeman and the little girl, and that Mrs. Freeman suggested they go to a Back Bay hotel for a drink.

"We were refused a drink because we had no male escort," the SPAR testified. "As we were leaving Mrs. Freeman said: 'Perhaps we'd better pick someone up.' We then went to a night club and remained there until 11 p. m. The child was left in the locked car, and when we came out, she was asleep."

How Yanks Wiped Out Nazi Tiger Tank Force

William Randolph Hearst, Junior, in a series of five articles, of which this is the fifth and last, describes his visit to American sector of the Normandy battlefield.

By WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST, JUNIOR

WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN NORMANDY, July 28—The American sector of the beachhead is narrowest at a point just south of Isigny above St. Lo.

It is here, that the Germans sent in strong tank forces the other day with the idea of cutting through to the beach.

You have only to be behind our lines in Normandy to realize such an attempt could not possibly succeed. Nevertheless, orders were found on one of the German officers after the attack was smashed, which clearly indicated that such had been their assignment.

About 40 to 50 Tiger tanks were used in the attack, which was launched at dawn.

However, prompt action by our ground, air and armed forces soon broke it up.

The way we did it was by cutting in behind the tanks and preventing any ground support from coming up.

MOST ALL WIPED OUT

The Ninth Air Force was called in and dive bombers in conjunction with tank destroyers—which are deployed several miles behind the front for just such a contingency—got practically all of the German tanks.

A few got back, some surrendered, but for the most part they were wiped out.

Burris Jenkins and I went over there the afternoon of the morning the battle had taken place.

The terrain they had chosen is very rugged, consisting of very small fields heavily wooded plus the ever present thick hedges. Through them run some half dozen winding country roads.

We turned off the main road just above St. Lo and had only gone a few hundred yards along it when we came across the first wrecked tank.

There were more on the roads and in almost every field, and we counted more than 20.

Bodies of German soldiers were everywhere.

As we rounded one little turn we came upon a big open truck with at least 15 dead Germans in the back.

A G. I. was driving it and four German prisoners were riding with their dead in the back.

Every so often they would stop and the Germans—all of them quite young—would take a stretcher and go over the side of the road and roll one of their ex-comrades onto it, then hoist him on the back of the truck, trip the stretcher over and let the body fall stiffly upon the others.

One tank had apparently run amok. It was perched halfway up the side of a little embankment at an angle of 45 degrees. The driver had been killed and the tank had careened up off the side of the road. Some of the boys told us the rest of the crew had come out with their hands up.

Our boys standing around these were from a tank destroyer unit.

They said they had been parked there that morning standing beside their vehicle when without previous warning they heard the clatter of approaching tanks.

The Germans, they said, were hollering and yelling like Indians.

The battle was immediately joined and when it was over, eight of our tank destroyers had accounted for 13 of the enemy with the loss of only two of our own.

They were high in praise of the air force which had accounted for another 15 or 20 tanks in the vicinity.

Soldiers vs. Sailors In Souvenir Racket

By HAL BOYLE

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN FRANCE, July 18 (delayed) (AP)—Camouflaged green silk parachutes which swung thousands of American paratroopers from the black skies on invasion morning are responsible for a few military racket.

Hundreds of parachutes were torn in landing and they have become prize souvenirs. The soldiers use the parachutes chiefly as neckerchiefs to keep out dust, but also as a camouflage cover for pup tents or as blankets. More astute Army scroungers also use them to pry fresh food supplies out of the Navy.

In trips back and forth across the channel, sailors are restricted largely to the beach and never get a chance to go inland and see the fighting or pick up battlefield souvenirs. But in the holds of their ships are hundreds of pounds of fresh meat and scores of cans of fruit juices coveted by soldiers. Some of them about once a week gather up a jeep load of German gas masks, rifles, machineguns, pistols and helmets and drive down to the beach for a bargaining session with the sailors.

The best barterer is a young officer whose only souvenir is a green parachute scarf knotted around his throat. When the sailors crowd around and try to trade him out of it he appears very reluctant, explaining:

"This is no ordinary piece of parachute. It is from a parachute with which Maj. Gen. Maxwell Taylor, commander of one of our airborne divisions, landed in France. I hate like hell to lose this. It has real historic value."

That only whets the determination of the sailors, and after prolonged debate the Army officer finally hands over the scarf and drives off with a jeep loaded with fresh frozen beef and stacks of fruit juice.

At least once a week he repeats the act on different ships.

"If all those scarfs came from Gen. Maxwell's parachute he must have landed from one big enough to have floated the Empire State Building," said an admirer of the enterprising young officer.

Two New WMC Boards Formed

Full responsibility for determining the labor needs of Greater Boston plants holding important war contracts will be placed with two newly formed groups, a manpower priorities committee, and a modified area production urgency committee. Leon J. Kowal, regional WMC director announced today.

The committees, which will work together, were created by Kowal said, to assure proper distribution of manpower so that the most essential war plants can meet war production requirements.

Kowal will be chairman of the priorities committee and the other group will be headed by Henry B. Ahlberg, regional production department manager of the WPB.

Londoners Buried By Robot Barrage

LONDON, July 28 (AP)—Flying bombs boomed through a channel overcast today bringing new destruction to southern England and the London area.

Many persons were trapped when a robot at lunchtime wrecked a store, blew the top off a bus near a road intersection and flung and automobile from the street into a shop.

Fire started in the store. Scores of firemen and rescuers dug to reach buried shoppers and customers. People nearby had mistaken the robot's roar for that of an airplane engine and had failed to take shelter.

Even as the rescuers worked, another flying bomb came over. They kept at their grim task.

One entire village had a narrow escape. Fighter pilots shot down several bombs, but one glided nearly a mile after receiving a burst from fighter guns over the town and pancaked near a coal yard.

"The town was saved by a miracle," a spectator said.

Throughout the night at another spot, rescue workers dug for nine persons buried in a house. They were guided only by the cries of the victims.

One bomb recently struck a canal through the London zoo and another killed two persons in Hyde Park, it was disclosed. Few people were in the park as the bomb buzzed over a band stand and exploded against a tree in the open ground, shattering windows in a nearby hospital. Animals escaped. Francis James Mortimer, 88, internationally famous marine photographer, was killed recently "by enemy action," another announcement said.

Congresswoman in Britain Cites Robot Danger to U. S.

By ALEX SINGLETON

LONDON, July 28 (AP)—Rep. Frances P. Bolton, (R.) of Ohio, the first American congresswoman to visit Britain since the United States' entry into the war, today described the use of the rocket-bomb as a promoter of international co-operation, declaring that its potentialities will help convince Americans they are "no longer safe and sure."

Her opinion was offered at a big press conference attended mostly by British women curious as to how American women get along in politics and in factories and how they are wearing to the embarrassment of the male reporters present.

Before the gathering got down to small talk, the Ohio lawmaker declared: "It would be very unfortunate if you people over here felt any change in the Administration will mean a change in the international policy in the United States."

"We Republicans," she continued, "are just as good Americans as any."

She found London "rather magnificent" after long years of withstanding aerial attack, as evidenced by its unpainted state, flak-chipped buildings and holes in streets where buildings once stood.

She visited Green Park, which she had remembered from pre-war days as being "so beautiful and almost hazy," and added simply: "It hurts in a different way now."

Mrs. Bolton said she hopes to get to Normandy to see the work of Army nurses and to "get as close to the war as I can." She will visit an Army base hospital in England this week-end.

Women reporters were not only curious about American women but what she thought of women. Mrs. Bolton told them one of the first things she noted was the British women's "beautiful hairdos."

Japs Deny B-29 Fliers Executed

LONDON, July 28 (INS)—An official Japanese spokesman today denied crews of American Superfortress bombers reported to have crashed on Japanese soil had been executed or would be executed.

The spokesman, Sadao Iguchi of the Japanese information board, was quoted in a Domei dispatch as saying reports fliers of B-29s had been executed were due to a misinterpretation of a Singapore broadcast.

The statement said:

"At the request of the American government, the Swiss legation submitted a note to the Japanese government on July 21 to which the Japanese government replied on July 25 the note dealt with something which is really impossible. The Japanese reply contained this explanation of the American misunderstanding:

"The American government seems to have misinterpreted the radio message of July 15 from Shonan (Singapore). The announcer said only: 'Attacking B-29 bombers which were shot down out of the sky over Japan have thus come with a one-way ticket to hell.'"

Pope in Plea For Free Poland

ROME, July 28 (INS)—Pope Pius XII, in his first statement on postwar political problems, appealed today for a "large and sovereign Poland" and urged all nations "be conscious of their debt toward Poland."

Addressing the Polish diplomatic corps, the Pontiff declared he had never despaired of the resurrection of Poland.

"Though your soil is presently covered with red blood, your rights are uncontested," he said. "We have the firm hope that whoever has in his heart at least a particle of really human Christian sentiment will vindicate for Poland the whole sphere of life and influence due to it according to the principles of justice and true peace."

Pope concluded by warning Poles and all other political violence and moderation, general good and well-being should be placed above individual hates and aspirations.

Serum to Kill Tuberculosis Germ Developed in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 28 (AP)—A new serum said to have shown amazing properties of destroying the tuberculosis germ in human beings was demonstrated to newspapermen at the Sao Sebastiao Tuberculosis Hospital here yesterday.

Dr. Augustin Arriagada Valenzuela of Chile and Dr. Milton Fontes Magarao of Brazil, who developed the serum, known as "Sutulina," after nine years of research, said experiments still were in the early stages and the serum was "very difficult to prepare" because of the shortage of necessary substances.

The serum is a concentration of the bacillus subtilis, which is taken from the air, and it has been used on volunteer patients at the hospital after experiments on guinea pigs. Both doctors said that two weeks after it had been injected in a patient tests showed lesions of the lungs had completely dried up.

A report of the work of Dr. Magarao and Dr. Arriagada recently was made to the National Academy of Medicine.

Dr. Arriagada is head of the Central Tuberculosis Laboratory of the public health service in

Time Element McGrath Knot

Disclosing that the time element varied in the testimony of several witnesses, Dist. Atty. Edmund R. Dewing declared today that this was the first hurdle to be cleared as he summoned 21 more witnesses to testify at the inquest in the slaying of little Frances McGrath.

"We hope to straighten out some of the complications in the testimony," Dewing said, explaining that witnesses had varied as much as an hour in setting times on the night of June 10 when the girl was last seen alive.

"We're concentrating now on getting the time element straight. When we do that we'll be over the first hurdle."

Today's list of witnesses, which will bring the total of those heard in the inquest to 74, was made up for the most part of teen-aged youngsters, who saw the slain girl in Scituate Harbor the night she disappeared.

They included James Sweeney, 16, and Robert Rooney, 17, both of Cohasset; Albert Damon, 17, of Stockbridge rd., Scituate; Lawrence Crowley, 16, Spaulding ave., Scituate; Joseph J. Conte, 16, First Parish rd., Scituate; Peter D'Arrio, 16, Somerset st., Boston; Leo Matthews, 26, Cushing highway, Scituate; Robert Whitaker, 23, and Donald Dwyer, 19, both of First Parish rd., Scituate; Phyllis DeCotne, 17, Havenhill st., Brockton; George L. Jonas, Marshfield and the following Scituate residents: Benjamin Goulston, 17, Ocean side rd.; Thomas Wilbur, 18, Old Oakton rd.; Walter Gannett, 16, and Allan LaVangi, 40, both of First Parish rd.; Joseph Conte, 15, Country way; Mr. and Mrs. William DeCosta, Tilden rd.; George Dwight Barker, rd., and his mother, Mrs. Edith Dwight, proprietor of the Sauti Grill in Scituate Harbor.

Two witnesses who testified previously are expected to be recalled because of "new angles" developed by their testimony, according to Dewing.

They were questioned at Norwell barracks by investigators headed by Capt. Joseph L. Ferrari after they appeared at the inquest. Five others also were questioned at the barracks as Ferrari's probe continued.

What Next?

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—The Maritime Commission awarded $5 to Miss Mary F. Wentland of the commission's regional construction office in Philadelphia for her suggestion that mirrors in women's lavatories be moved away from wash basins.

The award was one of several for suggestions making "langible savings in either time or material."

ELEANOR L. BARBOUR Resumes Maiden Name

Socialite Wins Maiden Name

As an aftermath of the divorce she obtained May 24 from Lucius James Knowles, Beacon st., socialite who is well known as a skeet shooter, Mrs. Knowles today held Suffolk probate court permission to resume her maiden name of Eleanor Letitia Barbour.

The daughter of Prof. Willard T. Barbour of Yale Law School, Mrs. Knowles was granted her divorce on grounds of cruelty. She now lives in Garden st., Cambridge.

She testified at the divorce hearing before Judge John V. Mahoney that after their marriage in Detroit in 1941, her husband's love turned cold and that he struck her after he had been drinking.

"He said I married him for his money," she testified, in recounting an episode in which she said hit and kicked her and she kicked him back. She was awarded $6000 alimony annually to be paid in quarterly installments.

Labor Paper Raps CIO Fund

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—The weekly newspaper, Labor, published by 13 railroad unions, most of them AFL affiliates, editorially criticized the CIO Political Action Committee's fund raising today.

Referring to plans for raising an aggregate of $6,000,000 for the fall campaign, the editorial said: "No fair-minded American citizen can question the right of workers to organize for political purposes, and ardently support their friends and oppose their enemies."

"However, if Mr. (Sidney) Hillman or anyone else imagines a proposal to raise $6,000,000 to contral a Presidential campaign will not cause the most serious repercussions from one end of this country to the other, he simply does not know the American people."

Argentina Crowd Denounces Yanks

BUENOS AIRES, July 28 (AP)—Several thousand persons, voicing approval of the government's foreign policy with shouts of "Argentines yes, Yankees no," participated last night in an orderly demonstration during which a noise bomb exploded.

The crowd assembled first in front of the U. S. Embassy where, as a precaution, women employees had been sent home early. The explosion, which injured no one but shattered a shop window, occurred as the main demonstration was moving toward the foreign ministry, several blocks away.

Numerous organizations sponsored the demonstration, which came 24 hours after Foreign Minister Gen. Orlando Peluffo in a radio address said Argentina would continue its foreign policy, criticized officially by the United States as favoring the Axis.

From the U. S. Embassy the crowd paraded through the principal shopping street to the foreign ministry, where President Gen. Edelmiro Farrell appeared on a balcony and acknowledged cheers.

Nazis Slaughter 24,000 Greeks

LONDON, July 28 (AP)—The Greek government in London announced today the Germans had added the village of Kleisoura in the Kastoria district to the list of more than 100 Greek communities in which slaughter and destruction had been visited upon civilian populations.

The announcement said after a clash between Greek guerrillas and a German patrol in which two Germans were killed, the Nazis put the torch to the little village.

A few days later the charred bodies of 250 women and children were recovered from the ruins, the report added. The men of the village had escaped to the mountains.

In the first week of July the Germans burned 25 Greek villages and the toll of Greeks executed by the Nazis since they occupied the country now exceeds 24,000, the Greek government said. Of that total, 4000 died in the last three months.

SPRINGFIELD, July 28 (INS)—The Springfield armory, announcing a production record un-equaled in 150 years of existence, disclosed today the 3,000,000th Garand rifle has been stamped and sent along for final assembly into an historic weapon.

Number 3,000,000 will be fitted with a special stock and will take its place in the Army museum.

CAPT. LAURENCE M. BROCK AND SISTER, ELEANOR

Hero Priest Lauds His 182d Inf. Boys

Charlestown's busiest man today was a Catholic priest, Capt. Laurence M. Brock, S. J., hero chaplain of the 182d Infantry, who is home on a 21-day furlough after two and a half years service with the boys in the Southwest Pacific.

All day long the telephone and door bells jingled as callers and visitors welcomed the 6 ft., 3 in. priest, former Holy Cross College teacher, who shipped out of Camp

Edwards for the Pacific right after Pearl Harbor.

Fr. Brock, who holds the Legion of Merit award for "exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service," was reluctant to talk about his own exploits, but he paid high tribute to American soldiers for their ability to "out-fight and out-think" the Japs under any and all circumstances.

The 41-year-old priest, at home with his two sisters, the Misses Madeline and Nellie Brock, in Bunker Hill st., Charlestown, honestly believes that one American soldier is the equal of five Japs. He particularly praised the men of his regiment, made up mostly of boys from Charlestown, Everett, Malden, Lowell, Concord, Waltham and Boston. Fifty-nine Bay Staters were among 120 veterans of the 182d who were home on furloughs today after being processed at Fort Devens.

"The loyalty of our boys to one another is an inspiration to their chaplains and officers. No force of Japanese, no matter how great, could force our boys to leave a wounded comrade," he said.

Three other Greater Boston officers were in the group with Father Brock: Capt. Myles A. Sweeney, of Somerville, Capt. Alfred Doig, of Dedham, and Capt. Albert J. Mangen, of Lowell.

Arm Shot Off, He Didn't Awake

SEATTLE, July 28 (AP)—A Japanese mortar shell landed in the hole in which he was sleeping on Saipan, and although it blew off his right arm just below the elbow, PFC Ray Anderson of Georgetown, Del., says he was so tired he didn't even know he was hit until a buddy awakened him.

But Pvt. Anderson thinks he's "very lucky."

"Sure, I am," insisted the 20-year-old marine from his Navy Hospital bed. "There were 15 of us sleeping in that same hole. Everybody was hit. I'm one of four who escaped alive."

Anderson was one of more than 150 marines newly arrived at the hospital with tales of the most sanguinary victory in Marine Corps history. Some of the men had gone through the hell of Tarawa before they hit the beaches of Japanese-held Saipan.

strictly on a four-year basis today, with the Republican nominee calling for an end of what he classed as New Deal "warfare" on states' rights.

Listing a series of topics for study by a GOP Governors Conference at St. Louis next week, Dewey said he hoped the Republicans could fix "an area of responsibility to the people," as between federal and local governments, that would settle the problem "not permanently, but for our time, or rather, the next four years."

He stressed the four-year basis of his program at a press conference attended also by Gov. John W. Bricker, Vice Presidential nominee, but did not explain whether he was contemplating only one term if elected. More than a year ago, Bricker proposed a constitutional amendment limiting presidential tenure to one six-year term.

Dewey said the governors would be asked to speak out on the regulation of all kinds of insurance, which the platform said should be retained by the states. He mentioned state versus federal control of the National Guard. Platform drafters urged that the guard be under state direction, with federal training and equipment.

Link Mussolini To Assassination

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP)—The New York Times today printed a dispatch from its Rome correspondent, Herbert Matthews, in which he said he had information definitely linking Mussolini with the assassination of Socialist Deputy Giacomo Matteotti on June 10, 1924.

The dispatch said a memorandum written by Filippo Filepelli, then editor of the Fascist newspaper, Corriere Italiano, showed Mussolini had knowledge of the plot to kill Matteotti and added "many of the Italian political opposition leaders of the time—Liberals and Communists included—knew the contents of the Filepelli memorandum."

"Yet nobody dared to say anything publicly," the dispatch related. "The Matteotti affair was treated generally as a Fascist crime, whereas had this memorandum been read in Parliament—and there were opposition deputies who had copies of it—nothing could have saved Mussolini. Nobody dared to bring it out, so Mussolini weathered the storm."

King Knights British General

WITH KING GEORGE'S PARTY TOURING ITALY, July 26 (delayed) (INS)—King George VI of Britain reviewed thousands of British Empire and Polish troops today and conferred knighthood on Lt. Gen. Sir Oliver Leese, commander of the Allied Eighth Army.

After the review the King flew up near the front lines in a Piper cub plane used for artillery spotting.

He pinned the crimson-ribboned Victoria Cross, highest military decoration conferred by the British Empire, on Lt. Richard Wakeford, Fusilier Richard A. Jefferson and Seafy Kamel Ram, young Indian hero of the crossing of the Rapido river in the battle for Cassino.

Now It's Pin-up Glamour Boys

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—A pin-up contest of glamorized high school boys has succeeded in distracting teen-age girls from uniforms, declares Mrs. Harriet S. Zucker, Brooklyn, fine arts teacher.

"Teen-age girls like uniforms," she said. "So we decided to stimulate their interest in their male fellow students—to glamorize the boys."

Mrs. Zucker said the contest, in which girls submitted pictures of the boys, had met an enthusiastic response, and more than 150 pictures were turned in.

Move to Save Jews in Europe

Special to Boston Evening American
NEW YORK, July 28—Faced with certain defeat, Hitler, in impotent fury, "is murdering Jews in wild proportion to the disasters he is suffering on the battlefields," Gabriel A. Wechsler, national secretary of the Emergency Committee to Save the Jewish People of Europe, said here.

But even Hitler's destruction will not solve the problems of 4,000,000 Jews in satellite Europe; in fact, it may make their position more anomalous and create new pitfalls and bafflements, according to the emergency committee.

The committee will convene the second national congress to save the Jewish people of Europe Aug. 7 and 8 at the Hotel Commodore.

Again, as at the first conference a year ago, outstanding experts without regard to race, creed or political leaning, will arrive to formulate a workable program for saving the remnants of European Jewry and their resettlement after victory.

"In essence, we will tackle the problem from the standpoint of 'What would happen to European Jewry if the war stopped tomorrow?' " Wechsler said at the committee headquarters, 25 W. 45th street.

Career in Army Beckons to GI's

By HUCK FINNEGAN

NORMANDY, July 28—Army life has changed the course of many a GI's life. There are boys with no pre-war mechanical or technical background who have become expert plane mechanics, radio repairmen, etc. They'll have useful, lucrative trades after the war. There are boys who have become enamored of Army life and plan to make it a career. There are older men who have had a four-year chunk bitten out of their lives who plan to remain in the Army for security reasons.

Such a one is Lt. Joseph L. Rocco, 29, of 10 Manet ave., Quincy. Wife: Susan. Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Michael La Rocco, 115 Charles st., East Weymouth. Joe's livelihood was golf. He started caddyding at South Shore in '25. "I won the caddy title there, and the prize was a pair of shoes," he recalled. He became assistant pro to Ken Cook in '35 and held the job until '40. But he's been in the Army since January, '41, and naturally has played little golf in the interim. He doesn't expect soon to repeat the 67 he shot at Malherly. "Guess it's the Army for me," he said.

Joe has two brothers in the service: John 22, in the Navy, whom he used to see before moving into Normandy, and Michael, Jr., 19, an air cadet at Santa Ana, Cal. "Mike just got through Weymouth High," he said.

T-Sgt. Frank Kulik, 32, of 15 Tremont st., Chicopee, chucked his job at Swift & Co., Springfield in '35, and enlisted in the regular army. He spent two of his seven years of service in Panama. He married Lois Cronin, a Springfield girl, who is staying in Baltimore for the duration. Kulik has been a sergeant since '37, likes the army, will make it a career.

Pvt. Edward Coe, 25, of 507 Pleasant st., Malden, graduated from Stoneham High in '36, has been in the Army since at Panama and way stations. He married Mary Roberts of Columbia, S. C., when he was stationed at Ft. Jackson and is the father of a baby boy, Edward, Jr., who will be three, Aug. 23. He plans to stay in the Army, "but will bring my wife and baby to Malden." He has two brothers in uniform: Charles, 23, Navy, and Joe, 21, over here. He also has two half-brothers in the service, Roland Buckley, 28, Navy, South Pacific, and Lt. John Buckley, with the air corps in Italy. Parents: Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Buckley. Coe would like to hear from Leon and Hanley of Malden. "Tell him my APO number is 8," he says.

Pvt. Merril F. Noddin, 20, of 182 Hersey st., Hingham, plans to enlist in the Merchant Marine when he leaves the Army. "I like the water," he says, "and besides Joe Dabue and Austin Studley of Cohasset and Dick Eaton of Hingham, all pals of mine, are merchant mariners, and brother Bob, '22, is in the Navy." Noddin attended Hingham High, worked on the Nantasket boats and Paragon Park. He corresponds regularly with Theresa Di Bella, 39 Laurel st., Cambridge. He'd like to be remembered to Arthur Laton, 225 Hersey st., Hingham, and "General" Stone of Paragon Park.

Pvt. Merton Gage, 24, lived at 39 Adams st., Somerville, attended Somerville High, found work in the First National Stores boring, enlisted on Feb. 9, 1939. He spent 10 months in Panama, traveled the entire United States now is touring Europe, step by step. His father is Capt. Edgar W. Gage, an officer in the Sanitary Corps in World War I, now attached to Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington. Gage plays the sousaphone, was in the band two years, got sick of it and transferred to a heavy weapons company. He has a brother Robert, 20, in the Navy, storekeeper first class. Gage wants to be remembered to Ernest Storazzi, 103 Prospect st., Lawrence, who used to live at 427 Medford st., Somerville. "I was just hustled from a sergeant," smiled the dark-haired youngster, "but I still like the Army. I'm sticking."

Sgt. Joseph R. Blanchette, 26, of 121 Wood st., New Bedford, enlisted in the Army in 1937, likes it, will make it a career. He spent three years in Hawaii ('37-'40) among his other travels. He married a Camden, S. C., girl (Vesta) while stationed at Ft. Jackson. Lt. Carl Alexander, 19 Manson st., Pittsfield, Me., never had much chance to work. After graduating from Maine Classical Inst., he attended a Diesel Engine School in Muncie, Ind., went from there into the Army. "I've been in the service four years," said the 6-3 ex-ball player, who is with a line company in the infantry.

An so it goes.

Don't Cork Pore-Mouths With Cake Make-Up!

WARNS SCIENCE

WHICH IS YOUR SKIN?

- 1 Clean Skin
- 2 Skin with Cake Make-up removed
- 3 Skin with Cake Make-up removed

BIG PORE OPENINGS: Hard little pellets of cake make-up clogging pore-openings may not help "you" and "smooth" them... but they may interfere with normal functioning, gather dangerous germs, lead to ugly blemishes!

DRY SKIN: Watch out for dry skin. It looks you older, lacks the radiance of youth. If you have a skin condition, no dryness or skin flakiness, beware of cake make-up.

Lady Esther baby-texture powder gives that young, smooth, "flawless look"...without danger!

Skin specialists have told me their first warning to girls with skin trouble is "Stop using cake make-up". It exposes delicate skin to three serious risks... dryness, coarseness and blemishes. Needless risks, when you can achieve far more exciting loveliness... without danger.

Why Lady Esther "Glamerizes" your skin without danger

Made by the exclusive Twin Hurvics Process... of the finest and purest ingredients... Lady Esther Face Powder gives your skin an enchanting new radiance. Infinitely finer and softer than other powders... my powder spreads on your face not like powdery particles... but rather like a delicate flattering film, that hides little lines and blemishes, clings 4 long hours. Even in strong sunlight, your face never looks mask-like or chalky, but utterly natural... as fine, smooth and flawless as lovely baby skin.

These thrilling results I promise you are not just my own opinion. They are the actual words, the experiences of thousands of women... taken from actual letters! These women have seen the difference on their own skin. They know from experience that no other make-up is half so flattering... or stays on and stays fresh so long, as safe Lady Esther Powder!

What is your experience with cake make-up? Write me, 7175 W. 65th St., Chicago, Ill.

8—Rezeka, a railroad junction in Latvia, 52 miles northeast of captured Daugavpils.

10—Other Russian troops broke into Siedlce, another rail center 50 miles due east of Warsaw where street fighting was in progress.

HITLER'S BRACKENST DAY

All these tremendous achievements gave Germany her blackest day of the nearly five years of war. The conquests were never matched in the peaks of the German blitzkrieg.

The picture was one of German collapse along a meandering front of 1000 miles from the wooded shores of the Gulf of Finland—an arm of the Baltic sea—to the Carpathians. Both northeast and southeast of Warsaw, the Russians were on broad plains leading into the very heart of the Reich, and there were no major natural barriers between.

The position on the Vistula river which flows through Warsaw still was obscure. The Russians had reached it on a wide front yesterday, and a Moscow dispatch said the 600-foot stream had been spanned. German broadcasts said several Soviet spearheads had reached the western bank. The series of official announcements from Stalin last night, however, did not specify the Vistula had been crossed.

Other victories were near.

Red troops were 65 miles south of the Latvian seaport capital of Riga.

At Lipsk, the Russians were within 5 miles of the old East Prussia border.

Przemysl, in the extreme south of old Poland just north of the Carpathians, was invested from three sides.

Still other Russians were within 25 miles of Radom in Poland, 85 miles from the second largest Polish city of Lodz, 93 miles west of Poland's fifth city of Krakow and at the very gates of Kolomyja in the Carpathian slopes in the south. They invested Jaroslavl, rail center which the Germans said they had evacuated nearly a week ago.

Along the Gulf of Finland, troops which took Narva were less than 100 miles from the Estonian capital of Tallinn.

She pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and larceny charges before Judge James W. Leighton in district court.

Lover's "handy" says...

"She's wonderful!"

3-Ring "handy" says...

"BALLANTINE for me!"

In ancient times, before man invented words, he talked with his hands. And the "handy" habit has persisted! Brakeman's "handy" says "Take it easy!" Guess "handy" says "Which one?" 3-Ring "handy" says "Ballantine Ale for me!" PURITY, BODY and FLAVOR in every glass America's finest since 1840.

BALLANTINE

ALE

Here's hoping that, with bottles so scarce, you're hurrying all of your Ballantine "empties" back to the store.

"Careful, son—don't let that money bite you!"

JIM: "Hey! This pay envelope is nice and fat and friendly. How can it bite me?"

DAD: "Well, it's happened to a lot of folks . . . and I was one of them."

"... Back in the last war I made a lot of money—just like you now. Made so much we thought we ought to live up to it. Bought a house that was way too big for us and all the fancy trimmings. We thought the big money would just keep rolling in."

"But the big money didn't keep rolling in. Pretty soon it ended. How I wished then that I'd stowed away some of it. Oh, we got back on our feet—but it took years of scrimping and saving to do it—and I missed out on the biggest opportunity that ever came my way."

"With what I'd thrown away I could have gone in as a partner when Lew took over old Snyder's store! It wasn't very big then but you know how big it is today. Why, I'd be all set now instead of just a guy who works for Lew if I'd only hung on to that money."

"And we didn't stop to realize during the last war what all our spending did to the cost of everything. Why, the more we spent the higher prices went and the more we had to pay for even common everyday things. That's what I mean by 'money biting you,' son."

"Why not be smart and do as our government recommends—put every dollar you can into War Bonds, life insurance and a savings account. In that way, you'll build the backlog of financial security that you've got to have to get ahead and stay ahead in life."

THE financial health of America as a whole depends upon the financial health of every individual. This in turn depends largely upon how well informed each individual is concerning the part he must play in the general economic picture for his own best interests and in the best interests of his country.

Recognizing this, America's Life Insurance Companies are sponsoring this educational program as a public service to the 68,000,000 owners of life insurance and to every American citizen.

A Change of Masters

THE GERMAN conquerors of Poland are most certainly and speedily being driven out of Poland.

But these events do not constitute liberation of Poland—for the simple and obvious and now ACKNOWLEDGED reason that a Russian conquest is swiftly and inexorably supplanting the German conquest, and Russian masters are taking over from German masters.

This is a bitter pill for the freedom-loving people of Poland, and the Russian government is making only the mildest and utterly meaningless efforts to sugar-coat the pill.

It has professed and proclaimed, it is true, its lack of ambition or intention to acquire Polish territory or change the social structure of Poland.

But in the same motion it has ESTABLISHED Russian sovereignty over the entire eastern section of Poland, and openly and ruthlessly made it a part of Russia—without agreement or consultation with the Polish people, and against their wishes.

It has ignored the exiled Polish government, the only legitimate Polish government in existence—as American and British recognition attest.

It is indulging in the hollow mockery of turning the administration of civil affairs in Poland over to a PUPPET government which was created in Russia and exists only because Russia can rely upon it and COMPEL it to serve the Russian COMMUNISTIC purpose.

POLAND is not undergoing liberation, but a CHANGE OF MASTERS.

Poland will not be a free, democratic nation as the culmination of these events and as it desires to be, but a COMMUNISTIC APPENDAGE of Soviet Russia in such small degree as it is not an ACTUAL PART of Russia.

The professions and intentions of Russia toward Poland, insofar as they suggest that the present military campaign in Poland is one of liberation, are EMPTY professions and intentions.

The REAL intention of Russia in Poland—as it is in all the Baltic countries and most of the Balkan region—is to subjugate and COMMUNIZE the lands out of which the Germans are being driven.

Russia has the SAME intention in Germany, and in the Scandinavian countries.

Russia has already established Communist controls and collaboration in Italy and North Africa—and indeed in France.

The so-called United Nations have TALKED glibly about the liberation and sovereignty of small nations and about the self-determination of peoples—but it is only RUSSIAN SOVEREIGNTY which is emerging in Poland, and wherever else in Europe the Russian armies are marching. If this is inevitable, the American and British governments seem singularly indifferent to it, and even resigned to it.

If it is NOT inevitable, the time is surely short in which America and Britain may salvage the last vestiges of the Atlantic Charter for which their peoples have so valiantly and sacrificially fought this war.

Let the Truth Be Known

THE MYSTERY of Pearl Harbor will apparently continue to be a mystery for a long time.

The "whole story" SHOULD BE told publicly—and it should be told NOW.

The "Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy" should not be permitted to use his high office to protect the fourth-term Presidential nominee of the Communist and Democratic parties.

If that is not what is going on, then NOBODY has ANY RIGHT or ANY REASON to object to prompt and proper action, with a full disclosure of all the facts about Pearl Harbor, BEFORE THE ELECTION.

WASHINGTON, July 28—This item is being written primarily for the Washington trade. And the reason I am writing it is that I am a vicious, unprincipled character who just revels in the discomfort of others.

The item, dear fellow Washingtonians—and go on sweating your ears off in this blast furnace by the Potomac—is as follows:

The War Production Board announced that more than double the number of snow plows were shipped in the first quarter of 1944 than in the corresponding period last year!

THE WPB explained that snow plows are used to remove snow from highways, streets, and airports, which is very instructive as I had always thought they were used for picking your teeth.

I do not wish to become embroiled in any argument with WPB, but there seems to be general agreement that a certain technical requirement is requisite to their use.

It should be snowing.

UP AT THE BRITISH EMBASSY, where the woodbine doth entwine, they have an air information office.

This office is under command of Squadron Leader Bernard Wicksteed, a veteran of the Royal Air Force. Back in the old days when they had these strange things called civilians he used to be a reporter for Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express, but he has since tried to live it down.

The other day Wicksteed received a cable from his wife. At some point in transmission, the message—it seems fair to assume—had been telephoned.

It arrived at the air information office all right, which was pretty surprising, because the address read: "Eire Information Office."

MR. TRUMAN FELT, prominent St. Louis journalist, is being urged by the finer minds around the National Press Club bar to write an article on the reactions of Senator Truman on being nominated for the vice presidency.

The sots—er, scholars—wish him to entitle the opus:

"How Truman Felt by Truman Felt."

I HAVE always been a devoted admirer of Mr. Paul Porter, director of publicity for the Democratic National Committee. Consequently it pains me deeply to discover that he is practically a colossus of deceit.

Mr. Porter shattered my boyish illusions about his noble character in this manner:

His invaluable assistant, Mr. Ed Brown, popped out of his office the other day inquiring loudly if anyone had a cigarette. A little, elderly man, who was waiting there, proffered a pack, and urged Mr. Brown to keep them all.

Mr. Brown thanked him and said all he wanted was one. Whereupon the little man ripped open an envelope and announced he had just written a Democratic campaign song.

Mr. Brown jumped as if he had been stung, because his life has been burdened for months by parties who do not think Roosevelt can win without synopacted plugging.

He had to think quickly, and he did: He told the little man he was only a hireling and that he would have to contact the big boss, Paul Porter.

Parentetically I would like to remark that I would watch Mr. Brown closely if he were my assistant, but this is not the point at issue.

The point is that Mr. Porter was alone in his office that evening when a call came through.

By George Dixon

He accepted the call because the party on the other end said he had been referred to Mr. Porter personally by Mr. Brown.

"Well," said the voice, "I am the man that was in to see Mr. Brown today about my campaign song."

Mr. Porter almost cried aloud in anguish. The answer to the very pinnacle of deceit. In a soft drawl, he asked:

"Who did you-all say you wished to talk to, huh?"

"Mr. Porter," said the caller.

"Oh," said Mr. Porter, "you-all wants to speak wif Missa Paul Porter. This am the cleaning porter. You just done got the wrong porter. Good night, huh?"

I DO NOT KNOW what is going to happen if they do stop tugging up new lames for employers in the various branches of government. Some of them are so mystifying that Sherlock Holmes would have to use up four bags of cocaine trying to figure what they mean.

But the most baffling I have seen was received by an official at the Maritime Commission. Why it was sent to the Maritime Division in the first place also represents an apparently insoluble mystery.

The letter was signed by C. R. Reagan, head of the Non-Theatrical Division, of the Bureau of Motion Pictures of the Office of War Information, whatever that is. But it carried this eerie salutation:

"Dear Washington visual war worker."

ALL I CAN SAY is that it makes me nice reconciled to my lot in life. If somebody asked me what I did for a living I would hate to say:

"I'm a visual war worker."

Because I am afraid the interrogator would add:

"All right—what do you see?"

Q—Bing Crosby and Bob Hope have been in films called "The Road to Morocco." "The Road to Mandalay" etc. Why not a picture called "The Road to the United States?" A—Well, I am a fellow who bet on Bing Crosby's horses? A—We refuse to discuss this question. It is against our policy to use any jokes about Scotchmen, Greta Garbo's feet or Bing Crosby's horses.

"Love," said Voltaire, "is the strongest of all passions because it attracts at once the head, the heart and the body." It is too bad Alice Roosevelt Longworth did not take up an active political career and become a Congresswoman. She is smarter, wittier, more intelligent and better balanced than any of the current feminine politicians and members of Congress.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Postwar automobiles will cost from twenty-five to thirty per cent more than the prewar cars. Postwar homes will cost from thirty to forty per cent more than prewar homes. So state experts on the subject. The silver lining to this promised cloud may be that postwar cars and homes will be forty per cent better than the prewar variety. Anyway, I hope so as I will be in the market immediately for a postwar car and a postwar home. The men who live longest in the order name the lawyers, teachers, lawyers and physicians. So claims a life insurance company statistician. Well, he ought to know. The life expectancy of hard working newspaper columnists, who are customarily struggling to meet deadlines, is not mentioned.

Hollywood By Louella O. Parsons

Distributed by International News Service
HOLLYWOOD, July 28—The most sought-after stage play of the year, "The Voice of the Turtle" by Warner Brothers, was flashed from New York that Jack Warner had bought John Van Druten's popular New York hit. The news was later verified by Warners. Jack Warner personally closed it out here with Alfred De Lila.

Vivien Leigh Jr., the producer. This deal is not the original $3,000,000 deal that included radio, screen and television rights. It is solely for motion pictures and, while Warners would not verify any price from another source, I learned that over a half million was paid, the highest price yet to be paid for any vehicle. Margaret Sullivan and Elliott Nugent reopens in "The Voice of the Turtle" Aug. 28 in New York and a second company will open in Chicago. Warners expect, however, to produce it next year.

THAT PROMISED visit of Vivien Leigh to America will have to wait, for Scarlett O'Hara is expecting a baby. She is now appearing before the cameras in London in George Bernard Shaw's play, "Caesar and Cleopatra," and it was after she had visited a London baby doctor that the news leaked out. Vivien's romance with Laurence Olivier, with whom she appeared in "Lady Hamilton" after she made the never-to-be-forgotten "Gone with the Wind" for David Selznick, was front page copy.

CHARLES BOYER may be the "great lover" as far as the femmes are concerned, but he's a boy who likes variety in his movie roles. Believe it or not, he has his heart set on playing "Jacobowsky" in "Jacobowsky and the Colonel." The role of the shy, self-effacing little man, who plays a "stooge" to the dashing colonel isn't exactly my idea of a Boyer characterization. But need I tell you that Charles is a very persuasive talker, and he has practically sold Columbia on the idea? At least, he is on the ground floor there making an untitled comedy with Irene Dunne.

EVERY TIME I see Phil Terry with Joan Crawford he seems like a very serious sort of young man hiding behind a pair of glasses, and always very quiet.

But he apparently registers with considerable more zoom and animation on the screen, for he goes from one musical at RKO, "Music in Manhattan," right into another on the same lot, "Pan-Americana." Phil gets the top spot with Robert Benchley and Eve Arden in support. He plays a magazine correspondent who goes to South America as an unofficial ambassador of good will and becomes officially involved with too many South American beauties. The music will be strictly on the rhumba side.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: Ingrid Bergman has just bought a house in Benedict Canyon—the one she has been looking for all these months; Lana Turner gave a birthday party at her new home in Bel Air for her daughter Cheryl's first birthday. Both Steve Crane and Peter Lawford were here; Patricia Clark, Warner actress, is expected to wed Ramon Esplago, Peruvian man of money; maybe Edith Gwynn doesn't know it, but her face will be on the cover of the song, "I'll Remember April," in appreciation of the blues she gave the number; looks like love for Peggy Ryan and Cpl. Robert Leids; the rich Tommy Warner, recently divorced, has a new romantic interest.

NEW YORK, July 28—Morton Downey, the Irish balladeer, wit and raconteur, can call half the great men of our age by their first names—and don't think he doesn't... D. K.

MORTON DOWNEY SAYS: I'm a wandering minstrel, and I like it fine. You meet such interesting people.

I first ran into ex-Ambassador Joe Kennedy in Boston. Just sing in any smart spot in the land of the bean and the cod, and Kennedy, who gets around, will turn up sooner or later. He knows everyone, attracts all kinds of people. I never knew what he was going to walk in with Gov. Saltonstall, Sen. Lodge, or a visiting movie queen. If Boston ever mislays its census list, I refer them to Joe Kennedy. It's two to one he could supply the whole thing from memory.

It's a strange thing about politicians and diplomats. All the leaders seem to have tremendous charm. Masculine "oomph." You might call it, Kennedy has it. Tom Dewey has it. Sen. Alben Barkley, Barney Baruch, and plenty of others have it. As for FDR, he really hit the jackpot. That's one thing they have in common. Another is their love of music.

TOM DEWEY likes his music lusty. None of this passive stuff for Dewey—sings right along with the singer in a rich baritone. Up in Connecticut where we all live near each other,

Dewey, Lowell Thomas, Dan Parker and your obedient servant frequently get together in a barber-shop quartet that makes the houses shake for miles around.

About FDR, "Home on the Range" may be his favorite, but the only song he ever asked me to do was a jivey popular number.

MY FRIENDSHIP with Sen.

Star Shine By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, July 28—Greg McClure and Barbara Britton are doing a scene for "The Great John L." Director Frank Tuttle is watching.

"O. K.," he shouts. "That's it. It's perfect." McClure and Miss Britton stand there pleased. A difficult scene is in the bag. They are ready to go on to the next one. Almost ready. Before ordering "Print it," Tuttle says to the cameraman, "How was it for you?"

"I don't know, Frank," he answers. "I think Barbara moved a little off the marker. She may be a little out of position on that last line." The script girl says: "Mr. Tuttle, Greg carried his hat in his right hand and it should have been the left."

The sound man interrupts and says: "I didn't get those last two words that Greg said to Barbara too distinctly. I got 'em, but not too distinctly." "O. K.," says Director Tuttle to Greg and Barbara. "We'll do it again!"

PAULETTE GODDARD, who likes to be referred to as "Madame Cheesecake," is playing the title role of "Kitty" in the picture of the same name. It is a period picture and "Madame Cheesecake" is wearing a gown that is quite low.

Ray Milland says: "You know, 'Madame Cheesecake'—'electricians are paying to work the rafters on this picture.'"

But Milland is also in costume, wearing skin tight trousers. "All I know, Ray," counter-attacks "Madame Cheesecake," "is that the electricians' union had their initial request from a woman for membership the other day."

Director Mitchell Leisen, who used to be an art director, enters the conversation. "We haven't shown anything yet. Why, in this period the ladies wore their corsets very tight and the dress covered only the corset. To cover their shoulders and bosom they wore only a lace fichu. There was no gussying."

"Great," says Milland. "And the men?" continues Director Leisen. "Would quite often step into the form of their trousers and then have their servant sew them in."

George Holland Boston After Dark

TWO BOSTON chains—one of restaurants and the other of grocery stores—have anticipated selling policies which the U. S. Department of Agriculture is interested in seeing established on a nation-wide basis...

The restaurant chain has started selling ice cream by the pound, instead of by the pint or quart... The store-chain has started selling oranges by the pound, instead of by the dozen... With the butter-fat content of ice cream being further reduced by Government edict, the Boston restaurant-chain believes its service to the public will be more appreciated than ever... Some ice-cream vendors have been indulging in a practice which the trade calls "whipping it"... The result is a lot of fluff and air that packs into pint containers in the same bulk as more substantial product.

MICKY REDSTONE of the Latin Quarter is scouting pretty, brunette Rita Gauthier, the 17-year-old singing emcee who is such a hit at Lowell's Hotel Laurier Club... Jack Tarle, ex of the Latin Quarter and now manager of the Club Colonial at Mt. Washington, came back to the Quarter to celebrate his birthday with Lou York... Mary Anne and Bonny Van, daughters of Billy B. Van, are appearing in "Goodbye Again" at Magnolia... Mary Anne was the vocalist with Bob Hardy's orchestra at the Lenox V-Room.

A CUTE COUPLE OF ATTRACTIONS spotted on a suburban theatrical marquee: Errol Flynn—Gentleman Jim—Made For Each Other... Through-out the various recent heat waves, the most popular attraction at Revere has been bowling... Musicians of the Boston local are finding it difficult to believe, but the fact remains that Wilson Lewis' crew has been given vacations with pay, on an alternating basis which keeps the band almost intact... The musicians' contract doesn't call for vacations with pay. Eddie Davis, boss of the Fox & Hounds Club, decided that the band belonged in his classification of employees who have been with the place for more than a year... Johnny Johnstone, at the Statler Terrace Room, is a talented young man, with a new style... Bernice Parks has helped the Plaza's Oval Room greatly... The Brookline girl has her agent's ear cocked for a major Broadway musical this fall.

THE ACT called Parker and Porthole, which combines a clever mind-reading stunt with ventriloquism, was the same combination which Olsen and Johnson spotted so effectively in "Sons o' Guns"... Parker and Porthole is the act before Boro at the Latin Quarter... The Toy Sisters, a pair of petite Oriental beauties, grapple zealously with American rhythms, to appealing on the same bill... That a strong show is proof against the summer and the 20 per cent tax is being demonstrated at the Latin Quarter indelibly this week... Business has been of the turn-away variety.

AMID THE RUMORS of possible cigarette rationing, a very real shortage of the over-sized brands is developing in Boston.

Plant Late Crops Now for Fall Use

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Supervisor of the Boston Record-American Garden Advertiser Garden on Boston Common

With July fast drawing to a close, it means that in most sections of the State there is just about 2 months left before frost time. This does not, however, mean the end of the growing season for all crops. It does mean the end for the first tender crops such as beans, tomatoes, peppers, cucumbers and squash. Beans of the quick maturing types, namely bush beans, can still be planted and have time to mature, but you cannot delay much longer. I would suggest the "Black Valentine" for this late planting.

Hardy crops such as beets, carrots and turnips should also be put in now.

DROUGHT AFFECTS CROPS

I visited a number of farms in the past week and noted growing conditions. Due to dry weather there is considerable delay. Now this will affect our commercial production is a question, but it would seem advisable to suggest that with reduced yields the V-gardeners would do well to plan on as many late crops as possible.

WATER IMPROVES QUALITY

To grow vegetables during hot, dry weather and get quality requires a lot of water. Crops allowed to dry out get tough, stringy and lack flavor. We have recently had some complaints about vegetables losing their crispness. If your land is high and sandy give it a good soaking.

SOW SEED AFTER SHOWERS

We have had some local showers which put the land in good condition for seed sowing. Take advantage of these showers and plant while the soil is moist. Be sure the seed bed is firm.

WORMS PREVALENT

Cabbage and broccoli are now being attacked by aphids and green worms. These insects will get worse as the season advances and if allowed to accumulate will be hard to clean up. Late cabbage can be almost completely destroyed by the cabbage worm. Dust often with rotenone. A thorough spray with nicotine will clean up the aphids.

Keep potatoes well covered with bordeaux to control late blight.

Ringling in $10,000 Gift to Red Cross

HARTFORD, July 28—Edward N. Allen, chairman of the Hartford Red Cross chapter, said today that a gift of $10,000 from the Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey Combined Shows, Inc. would be a "big boost" in delaying expenses incurred in the big circus fire here on July 6.

The money will be used for needs growing out of the disaster, Allen said. He added that Red Cross expenses would total $100,000, asserting that $38,000 already had been spent and that the cost of nurses' services was $300 a day.

Old Greek Influence

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE influence of ancient Greece on our 1944 styles continues. You see it mostly in dressy daytime and evening gowns, and it is one of the most flattering influences in the whole world of dress design. The draped body lines that mean Greek influence are flattering to any of the shapes in which modern womanhood comes.

The example I have chosen for our sketch is one of the most delightful. This dinner dress is made of Dutchman "adonis" crepe in a deep violet shade. The wide shelf-like cape that suggests sleeves, the high, round neckline and the drape from the panel at the front of the waist make this gown a real personality.

The skirt is slim and graceful, being gathered at the front to the panel.

Bath Mitt Refreshing

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

A POWDER with a purpose is a dusting powder . . . fragrant, softening, refreshing and exhilarating. You don't have to go to a swimming pool to get cool. A bath the luxurious way . . . followed with generous pattings of dusting powder achieves the same effect . . . with less bother of traveling to and from the pool . . . and with more feminine nicety.

One of the best ways we know of to achieve this good-feeling pertness is with a bath mitt . . . a mitt containing delightfully-scented powdering goodness that spreads and smooths all over the body in a jiffy . . . leaving the skin cool and soft and dry. Such an outstanding means is a distinctive, quiet, bath and white dusting powder mitt . . . It has three ounces of luscious contents to satisfy the most fastidious . . . and it can be easily re-filled when all used.

GIVES YOU THAT PARTY-SPIRIT AIR

The body skin takes on new-found satiny-smoothness . . . lovely to the touch . . . and good for the morale. It perks us up with that vital feeling of startling ability . . . to go forth and conquer. It gives us that party-spirit air.

The hand slips into this mitt easily and simply . . . and with a few pattings . . . sweet-smelling, exquisitely textured power is pumped out to dust a figure into caressing fragrance. There is more than mere coverage to dusting powder. It has a purpose . . . and that is one of refreshing loveliness. Try it and see.

For the name of this lovely dusting powder mitt, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Begs Another Tempting Breakfasts

By MARTHA LEE

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I've been married 11 years and have three children.

We were very happy until my sister introduced us to her girl friend whose husband is in the service. She has a car and as she can't drive she asked my husband to drive her car. And as I was usually with him, I never suspected anything until a week ago. He dropped me off at our house and then took my sister and her girl friend home.

When he didn't come back I went to see what had happened and found him in this girl's apartment. She told me she was in love with my husband. My husband didn't come home, so I told his mother and she went after him and asked me to give him another chance.

My husband said he was sorry for what he had done, and as the children were always asking for "Daddy," I took him back. But this thing has upset me so that I don't know what to do.

A. W. W. As this is your husband's first offense, you might accept his promise and give him another chance. There are so many things to be considered before breaking up a home. Most important there is the fate of the children, the ability of a wife to earn enough to feed, clothe and house them, because alimony has become a broken straw on which to depend. And there is the inherent weakness of human nature, which gets itself involved in these temporary scrapes.

Meanwhile, I'm wondering what kind of letters this serviceman's wife writes to her husband while enjoying her $50-a-month pension, more if she happens to have children.

TAKE A HINT

Beauty

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, Thursday—When I was at San Diego, Cal., I had a chance to see some of the training going on, and again I was impressed by the extraordinary increase in our efficiency and the thoroughness with which we are now doing everything.

The papers the other day said we are calling for a number of new men for the Navy, in order to increase the speed of the war in the Pacific. I hope the response will be immediate, because I know in almost all branches of the services men have been out in that area for many long months.

I think it would be a great lift to the spirit of all the men in that part of the world if the Army and Navy could just see it very clear, in spite of the problems of personnel and transportation and equipment, to a definite rotation policy which will relieve these men who have been so long without seeing their home shores.

ASIDE FROM the actual fighting, the climate is one which, after a long period of time, is hard on any individual. I admired very much the spirit of one who wrote his mother that in spite of the length of time he had been in the tropics, he had made up his mind, because he was responsible for a group of men, to increase his weight and keep himself in good physical condition. That was the only way in which he could keep his spirits up and help the men under him. A wise youngster—but it is not always so easy to accomplish the ends that he apparently achieved.

THE DEMOCRATIC convention was on in Chicago as we flew back, and while walking up and down at the airport to get a breath of fresh air after the night on the plane, who should greet me but ex-Sen. Sherman Minton. I had not recognized him because my mind was far away from politics and from Washington acquaintances. So I was a little surprised to see him; but his mind was not on politics either. I soon found. He was there to meet his son, back from Saigon for a short leave after months in the service, and I could understand the way Mr. Minton felt.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

DON'T DO THIS! Don't "suck" the ice cream on your spoon! Drawing the spoonful of ice cream in and out between your lips is unattractive and unsanitary.

sure to like one of these: Dip the biscuit quickly in milk, drain, and then add cream. Or, dip the biscuit in milk, drain, and fry in butter, after which it may be served with a little cream. If you don't like milk or cream, dip the biscuit quickly in hot salt water, and place a chunk of butter on it, allowing the butter to melt into the shreds. The biscuit is also delicious when split and heated in the oven and eaten with butter the same as any toast.

SHREDDED WHEAT PORRIDGE

Those who like a mush or porridge will find shredded wheat porridge nourishing and satisfying, and very easy to make. Put the shredded wheat biscuits in a small saucepan, add salt and enough water to cover the bottom of the pan; stir and boil until it thickens, then serve with milk or cream. Good for youngsters or grown-ups.

EGGS AND CEREAL

Eggs are time-honored favorites for the first meal of the day, and the nutrients which they contain are just as important in the summer diet as in the winter one. Since they are one of the basic seven foods they should be included daily at some meal. An excellent breakfast menu might start with your favorite fruit juice, followed by poached or scrambled eggs on shredded wheat biscuit as the main dish. Then, with milk or coffee or whatever your preference for beverage, you are off to a vigorous start ahead of the soaring thermometer.

POACHED OR SCRAMBLED EGGS ON SHREDDED WHEAT BISCUIT

Moisten the biscuit slightly with cold water, place small bits of butter on top, put in a buttered pan in hot oven about three minutes. Use as a toast for scrambled or poached eggs.

Introduction Hint

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: My mother has recently re-married. As one of my friends have met my stepfather. How do I introduce him?

KATHERINE

For a while, at least, until your friends become more familiar with your mother's new name. I suggest you mention your stepfather's name in your introduction: "Miss Brown, this is my stepfather, Mr. Robbins."

NUTRITION EXPERTS have done an amazing job in alerting Americans to the importance of the well-balanced meal. In fact, it is a direct tribute to their insistence that today's homemaker has formed the habit of building her menu around a substantial main dish, choosing other foods for additional values and for their contribution in flavor, color and texture.

Luncheon and dinner menus are worked out with care in most households, but many people still do not give breakfast planning the thought it deserves. Especially is this true in warm weather. Yet it is these still and steamy mornings, when humidity is high and energy is low, that call most urgently for a meal so balanced that it brings together basic foods known for their shining performance.

SHREDDED WHEAT FOR BREAKFAST

Such a breakfast can still be a time-saving menu, as pleasant to prepare as it is to eat, and equally easy on the digestion. For instance, make the sturdy main dish some morning fresh fruits over crisp shredded wheat biscuits, with plenty of whole milk and sugar.

PEACHES IN SHREDDED WHEAT BASKETS

Peel and slice peaches as for ordinary serving. Make biscuit baskets by crushing an oblong cavity in the top of the biscuit with the bowl of a teaspoon removing the inside shreds from the basket or patie shell. Heat the biscuit basket thoroughly in the oven just before using, and fill with sliced peaches in their own juice. Serve with milk or cream, and sweeten to suit the taste.

In the same manner sliced bananas, pineapple, and other fruits, fresh, stewed, or canned can be used with shredded wheat biscuit. Or, if preferred, instead of making the biscuit basket, a quantity of the fruit with juices can be poured over the biscuit and then served with milk or cream and sugar the same as before.

OTHER BREAKFAST SUGGESTIONS

Thoroughly heat shredded wheat biscuit in the oven to restore crispness. Then place the biscuit in a saucer or bowl and pour hot milk over it. Pour a little cream over the top of the biscuit, and salt or sweeten to suit the taste. If preferred, cold milk, instead of hot milk, may be used.

There are many other appetizing ways of serving shredded wheat for breakfast. You are

Army, Navy Move To Halt Illegal Votes

By WILLIAM THEIS

WASHINGTON, July 28 (INS)—The Army and the Navy went into action today to curb their first soldier-sailor vote headache and forestall, if possible, a bad case of national migraine on election day.

Word that scores of federal war ballots had been prematurely received and invalidated in California, bringing a flood of inquiries to the War Ballot Commission, caused issuance of new instructions emphasizing the ballots may not be distributed or cast before Oct. 2.

The Navy, apparently concerned that many of its irregular ballots may have come from naval or merchant marine units, issued an "ALNAVY" notice to all naval personnel ashore and afloat—calling attention again to provisions of the law and previous instructions.

ASKS NAVY RULING

At the same time, the Navy's judge advocate-general, Rear Adm. Thomas L. Gatch, was asked for a legal opinion on the voting status of any Navy personnel who may have violated the law by obtaining ballots and voting two months too soon.

The Army, more or less confident no "GIs" were involved, reiterated it had done all possible to assure compliance and promised any "necessary corrective action" should Army personnel be found at fault.

"It's like overlooking the fine print on an insurance policy," said one Navy source. "Someone didn't read the instructions or was over-enthusiastic about getting in the votes."

Actually, it was disclosed, the first reported breach of soldier vote law provisions came to the Navy's attention 10 days ago from the East Coast. Several war ballots were filed in New York and in North Carolina.

BOTH FIX OCT. 2

The Navy, Capt. William D. Puleston is the official war ballot representative under Sec. Forrestal.

Under the soldier vote law the federal war ballot is restricted to service personnel from 20 certifying states lacking absentee ballot provisions but the soldier or sailor must swear he has applied for a state ballot by Sept. 1 and failed to receive it by Oct. 1 before being entitled to a federal ballot.

Both Army and Navy thus have designated Oct. 2 as the earliest date on which federal ballots may be distributed and filled out.

30,000 Missourians

Ask Absentee Ballots

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 28 (AP)—Missouri will have its statewide primaries Tuesday, but—

It may be days before a candidate will know for certain if he has been nominated.

An Associated Press survey today showed that there already have been 30,000 requests from soldiers for absentee ballots.

Veterans' Friend

Q—My husband was recently killed in action overseas. I have received several blanks to be filled out and returned to the Veterans' Administration. Would you please explain what the Widows and Orphans Compensation blank means and do I receive any benefits from this? I have one child. L. A. T., Watertown.

A—Under the Widows and Orphans Act you will receive $50 per month and $15 additional for your child. If you remarry the benefit will stop. Widows and Orphans of servicemen who die as a result of service-connected disability or injuries, such as in your case, come under the act.

Q—I was released from the Navy April 5, 1944, and placed on the Fleet Reserve list because of a medical disability. I wish to know if I am entitled to apply for an honorable discharge button and also where do I get it? A. C. J., Lynn.

A—You may receive button by bringing your discharge papers to the Fargo Barracks, Summer st., South Boston, near Army Base.

Q—I have been discharged from the Navy by "Special Discharge," received my mustering-out pay, do I also get the discharge button? G. A. W., Boston.

A—Yes. Answer to above question applies to you.

Q—Do all servicemen who are wounded in battle receive the Order of the Purple Heart? What does it represent a wound or citation for bravery? E. S. M., Newport.

A—Members of the armed forces, wounded in action by enemy fire are eligible for the Purple Heart.

(Questions submitted to Veterans' Friend, Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, 5 Winthrop Square, Boston, 6, Mass., will be answered in the columns of these newspapers. Those desiring personal reply are requested to enclose self-addressed and stamped envelope.)

In the Armed Forces

Lt. Bickford G. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred White, Summer st., Newton Center, received the Air Medal at Woodlawn Naval Base, N. J., for courageous conduct under fire near Truk in February. White pressed home his attack against an enemy cruiser and scored a direct hit which left it dead in the water. This allowed an aerial torpedo attack which sank the cruiser.

Among a new class reporting at Fort Knox, Ky., for a wheeled vehicle course was Pvt. William E. Mahoney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund M. Mahoney, Fairmont st., Arlington.

William Simons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Simons, Beacon st., Brookline, has been promoted to technical sergeant. He is in charge of armament with a 15th Air Force squadron in Italy.

S-Sgt. Socrates J. Troumpalos, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Troumpalos, Howe st., Marlboro, a waist gunner on a Flying Fortress, has been presented the Air Medal at a bomber station in England.

2Lt. Philip F. Dole, Lt. Vernon st., Beacon Hill, has been transferred to Miami Air Depot, Fla., as chief of personnel statistics. He spent 18 months in the New Hebrides as a technical sergeant.

WAVES Oath To 70 Girls Here

Featuring a special second birthday party concert for the WAVES tonight at the Hatch Memorial Shell on the Esplanade, 70 Massachusetts girls will be sworn in as members of the women's naval reserve by R. Adm. R. A. Theobald.

More than 2000 Greater Boston girls have joined the WAVES since the organization was founded. Lt. Parker, who is in charge of WAVES procurement in New England, was the first New England woman to become a member.

Another WAVES birthday party program will be held tonight at the Lincolnshire barracks where the USO Jewish Welfare Board will be host at a gathering at which Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall will cut a birthday cake. Two anniversary events are scheduled for tomorrow. The USO-Explanade Club will hold an open-air dancing party for WAVES from 8 to 11 p. m., and the Copley sq. Loss of 3 Players Hits Braves Hard

By JACK CONWAY

WHILE THE Braves may never win another National League pennant, they are taking their share of top honors in draft physical examinations. The latest score is three times at bat and three hits. The young men who will soon be scoring for Uncle Sam are Stan Klopp, pitcher; Max Macon, first base, and Chet Ross, outfielder. They will soon follow Connie Ryan, second baseman, into the service. Ryan, All-Star second baseman, recently joined the Navy.

The loss of these players will make it necessary for Manager Bob Coleman to do a little master minding to keep the Braves going for the remainder of the season. While it is a severe loss to the Braves to have four of their players accepted for military service at this stage of the season, the club did not experience as much early season loss of talent as was expected at one time.

The slow down of the draft and the decision not to force players in 4-F to enter war plants has enabled the Braves and other club balls to keep going.

As I read of the latest members of the Tribe passing the physical examinations for military service, I was reminded of a recent experience at the South Station restaurant. I was on my way to Scituate and stopped to have something to eat.

There was a group of young men in the restaurant. They were going to take a night train to the naval training camp at Sampson, N. Y.

"I am very proud that I was accepted by the Navy," said one of the service men. "I am 31 years of age, and volunteered. It was a real thrill when I was told I was physically fit. It isn't easy to get into the Navy today. I am looking forward to the training period with considerable interest. I feel that if I work hard and apply myself to my work that everything will be all right."

Athletes who have entered service feel much the same way. They are thankful of the opportunities they gained in baseball, but realize that the big business of the United States today is to win the war as quickly as possible and get things back to normal.

Good Baseball Year

BASEBALL HAS had a good year due chiefly to Sunday and night baseball. The attendances at the Sunday games have been particularly large, while the night games have attracted banner gatherings. Even Clark Griffith admits that night baseball is a fine thing for the game. He has got all possible night games of Washington, Griffith for years fought night baseball.

The Boston clubs made a mistake in not installing lights when they could have secured the necessary equipment and the manpower. Night baseball is like horse racing, dog racing and many other new things in this part of the country. It cannot be brushed aside.

The Red Sox will install lights for football games which Ted Collins' Boston Yanks will play at

3 B's Ready

At the present rate the Braves will, at least, have their club franchise and prairie-like ball park left. To add to their current woes, if few patriotic purposes they may be called such, three of their players appeared before the local draft board, found healthy and normal; declared A-1 and instructed to remain within calling distance. The players are Max Macon, Chet Ross and Stan Klopp.

Verily, it looks as though popular Duffy Lewis, road secretary and old Red Sox outfielding great, along with Speaker and Hooper, will have to shift into uniform, cover that bald pate and go into left field.

Fenway Park The night games will be played in September before the weather gets too cold.

In postwar days, there will be lights at both Fenway Park and at Braves Field.

I CANNOT imagine anything worse in baseball than a world's series played in St. Louis. The Cardinals are a cinch to win the National League pennant, while the Browns are still setting the pace for their American League rivals. For a time it looked as if the Yanks were going to overcome the lead of the Browns. The men of Joe McCarthy haven't done as well on their Western trip as expected. The loss of a double-header to the White Sox was one of the bad spots on the record of the Yanks.

The noble sports writers like to have at least half of a series in either New York or Chicago. These are bright, sparkling cities, and one can get plenty of entertainment in the late hours of the night. The fans also enjoy the many things that are offered by New York and Chicago.

St. Louis, in the opinion of writers and fans, is a town with some fine trains leaving it for the East and West. Unfortunately, one cannot always get reservations.

DiMaggio Parents Are Seeking Papers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Under a permissive presidential order, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. DiMaggio, parents of the three noted baseball players, Joe, Vincent and Dominic, applied yesterday for U. S. citizenship.

It was their second application. The first one was made while this country still was at war with Italy, their native land. Since Italians now are not classified as enemy aliens, the presidential order clears the way for action upon their new application.

Hughson and Doerr Keeping Sox in Race

By FRED HOEY

Baseball fame has been thrust upon Boston. Not suddenly. It is something that has gathered momentum over the past month. Whether, like the World War I of 1918, it will be climaxed by a Red Sox pennant is for the fates to decide.

TEX HUGHSON AND BOBBY DOERR, RED SOX LIFE SAVERS—Big Tex has won 16 games to lead all major league pitchers. Bobby leads the American League in batting with .337 figures, tops his circuit in homers with 12, has made 356 hits to lead both leagues and runs second by three runs to Vern Stephens of the Browns in runs batted in with 61.

Two of Manager Joe Cronin's stalwarts, Pitcher Tex Hughson and that great ball player, Bobby Doerr, certainly have been setting a most amazing pace.

Big Tex notched his No. 16 win yesterday against those tough Tigers to lead all major league pitchers. Al Newhouse of the Tigers and beloved Bucky Walters of the Reds have each won 15.

These 16 victories over a three-month period represent consistent pitching at its very best. Proceeding along that winning pace for the balance of the season, Hughson should knock off 25 or more wins for the year. This would compare favorably with some of the old winning pitching marks. Like Big Ed Walsh and Lefty Grove, Hughson is a big loose guy who can stand a lot of work. It looks as though he would get it.

Lefty Gomez of the Yanks won 26 in 1935; Lefty Grove, then with the Athletics won 31 in 1931. To go back to the hazy Red Sox days of 1912, Joe Wood won 34. These figures are mere peanuts as we delve further into the record book. Back in 1904 the late Jack Chesbro of the Yanks, who by the way came from Conway, Mass., won 41 games. Big Ed Walsh won 46 for the White Sox in 1908. Big Ed wasn't only a pitcher. He was a big, tough mule, who loved it out there in the box.

The last Red Sox pennant winner of 1918 was a good ball team, but by no means a great one, as outstanding teams are measured. Babe Ruth, then a sweet pitcher, and underhand Carl Mays each took two games from Fred Mitchell's Chicago Cubs to grab the World Series four games to two.

So the Red Sox in their present condition, place position and hustle may be counted very much in the current flag race. They have the will to win. That's a big help. And for the first time since Joe Cronin has led the club second guessing columnists, outside Boston, have prevented the Sox ship from sinking by buttoning their lip.

NY Police Back Off-Track Bets

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 28—Asserting illegal bookmaking never could be stopped and that they were "tired of being the goats," the New York State Association of Chiefs of Police meeting here voted unanimously in favor of legalizing off-the-track betting on horse races.

Police Chief Michael Silverstein of Mt. Vernon launched the vote on the resolution after the issue had been dodged earlier in the conference by the resolutions committee.

"Ever since 1941 I've been hearing from influential persons—lawyers, legislators and people from upstate—that they favored off-the-track betting," Silverstein said.

CASH FOR POLITICIANS

"One betting operator told me that he would gladly pay $3000 a year for a State license to take bets. Now it costs him $20,000 a year to operate, and there's no telling where the money goes."

"A month before election, in other words, if you then offered the other states as well as this one, candidates look around for campaign funds, and they're not particular where they get the money," he said. "Then the political party that is speaker questioned its justification of power gets reformers busy on or propriety."

to find illegal gambling. And who gets blamed? It's the chief of police, of course.

"The district attorney asks the gamblers which cops get money from them, but I never heard of gamblers being asked which candidates for public office got money."

BIG REVENUE

Chief Silverstein said the State received $19,000,000 in taxes last year through the betting at tracks and should receive a large income from off-the-track wagering.

He said the present gambling law could not be enforced any more than could the prohibition law. As long as there are telephones, bets will be made, he contended.

Chief William A. Kruppnbach, of New York, then offered the resolution calling for the legalization of off-the-track betting. Chief Walter A. Kirchoff of New Rochelle, seconded it, and not one speaker questioned its justification.

Mort Cooper Key To Cards Success

By Associated Press

Rookies come and rookies go but Mort Cooper's powerful right arm still represents much of the pitching strength of the pennant-bound St. Louis Cardinals.

The husky Red Bird from Webster Groves, Mo., staggered through the early season and was batted off the hill three times in a row as he took a back seat to George Mueger, Harry Brecheen and the veteran Max Lanier.

Mort answered the "what's the matter with Cooper?" remarks by opening a spurt on May 28 that has produced 11 wins in 12 starts and boosted him into a tie with Bucky Walters of the Reds for most shutouts with five.

As the Cards opened up a 14½ game lead on Cincinnati, their longest margin of the year, Cooper hurled a two-hit shut-out against the Phils for a 5-0 decision over Ken Keltnerberger, after Harry Brecheen had wobbled to an 8-7 verdict over Bill Lee in the opener of a double-header.

In Cooper's sensational string, the Cards have scored 108 runs, an average of nine per game, including such lopsided totals as 18-0, 16-0 and 10-2. Chicago, beaten 11 times in a row by St. Louis, is the only National League team Cooper has not stopped in boosting his win record to 13-1. He was belted out by the Cubs in a game eventually taken 10-9, and did a relief chore that brought no reward.

Ray Mueller's double in the eighth inning boosted Cincinnati back into second place by a 4-2 nod over Boston. Pittsburgh was rained out at New York, as was Chicago at Brooklyn. Rookie Jim Konstanty did the pitching for the Reds to decision reliever Ira Hutchinson.

The St. Louis Browns missed a chance to boost their lead when Sig Jakucki was upset by the Athletics, 7-5. Dick Siebert's two-run homer in the first helped start the A's to a 16-hit barrage behind Ross Christopher.

Cleveland dropped the New York Yankees into a second-place tie with Boston by pounding Walt Dubiel for an 8-1 score as Allie "Chief" Reynolds did a good job of scattered 11 blows. Myril Hoag, an ex-Yankee, led the Tribe with two doubles and two singles, driving in three runs.

Orval Grove of the White Sox went the route for the first time in eight starts to shut out Washington, 4-0. Ray Schalk responded to a $500 war bond gift by driving in two runs and scoring a third off Dutch Leonard.

A black and white cartoon illustration depicting a busy office environment. In the foreground, a man in a light-colored shirt and tie sits on a stool, looking startled as he holds a small object. Behind him, a man in a dark suit and bowtie stands near a large desk. At the desk, another man in a vest looks up in surprise. To the right, a woman in a polka-dot dress and a man in a striped shirt are also present. The office is cluttered with papers, a typewriter, and a trash can. Several speech bubbles provide context and humor.

SPEECH BUBBLES:

- "AND TWO BUCKS ON "RED MIKE" IN THE FIFTH TO SHOW, AND--OOPS! ER--OH--NOW ABOUT THAT INVOICE---ER-INVOICE-HUH? AHEM! I'LL CALL YOU BACK--ER-GOODBYE!"
- "HAR-RUMPH! SMEDLEY!"
- "RED MIKE BETTER MOVE OVER-I THINK HELL HAVE TO SHARE THE STALL WITH SMED!--GIDDAP!"
- "I LOVE THAT INVOICE GAG! BET O'L SCOUR-PUSS THINGS THAT'S A HORSE-TOO!"
- "THE OLD MAN WILL BE GOING OVER OUR PAL'S BOOKS WITH A MAGNIFYING GLASS"
- "IF ONLY SMEDLEY'S HORSES COULD POP OUT OF NOWHERE LIKE FROZEN-PUSS DOES, HE'D CLEAN UP..."
- "THE FIRST BET HE'S MADE IN SIX MONTHS, AND O' EAGLE EARS HAS TO CATCH HIM--"

CHICAGO, July 28 (INS)—A field of eight thoroughbreds is expected to go to the post tomorrow in the $50,000 added Arlington handicap at Washington Park, with Calumet Farm's Pensive and Allen Drumheller's Georgie Drum the probable favorites.

Pensive, since winning national acclaim for victories in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, has lost some favor by dropping four straight races but will get plenty of support.
